MOZART AT OAK PLACE

Sunday, October 19, 2025 – 3:30 pm
The Venue at Oak Place
Gregory Vajda, conductor

Join the Huntsville Symphony Orchestra in a rare experience that blends timeless music with local history. Mozart at Oak Place brings the spirit of the salon concert to life at the 1840 Steele-Fowler House—a jewel of Greek Revival architecture and an iconic piece of Huntsville’s past.

As a sponsor, your name will be associated with this uniquely Huntsville event—where Mozart’s music fills the same halls once occupied by General Joe Wheeler and his guests. This intimate, elegant concert invites patrons to experience the classics in a setting as storied as the music itself.

THE DIARIES OF ADAM & EVE

Sunday, March 1, 2026 – 7:30 pm
St. Stephen’s Episcopal Church
Gregory Vajda, conductor

What happens when Mark Twain’s humor meets Baroque music and the Book of Genesis? You get The Diaries of Adam & Eve, HSO’s unique take on musical narrative in the intimate setting of St. Stephen’s Episcopal Church.

Featuring Michael Daugherty’s clever setting of Twain’s words, paired with church sonatas by Arcangelo Corelli, this concert blends literature, laughter, and legacy in a sacred space.

DINNER ON THE MOUNTAIN

Sunday, April 26, 2026 – 5:30 pm
Burritt on the Mountain
Gregory Vajda, conductor

There’s nothing quite like Dinner on the Mountain. Perched atop Monte Sano at Burritt on the Mountain, this elegant evening pairs chamber music with sweeping views and fine dining in one of Huntsville’s most treasured landmarks.

This year’s performance includes lively octets by Louis Spohr and Jean Françaix—music as beautiful and original as the scenery itself. Sponsorship of this event supports HSO’s chamber series and offers unmatched visibility among our most devoted patrons.

Every great performance needs a strong backing.
Let’s show Huntsville what impact sounds like.
